Interbee 2023 marks our first return to Japan post-pandemic, and we had a rewarding session connecting with industry friends over the 3-day event.

Etere Business Development Manager Alex Gattari represented the company at the show. We extend our appreciation to IABM for the invitation to present the Etere Ecosystem at the IABM pavilion.

The Interbee show gave us a unique opportunity to demonstrate the advantages of transitioning from a hardware-centric to a fully software-driven company in Japan. The benefits range from better cost-effectiveness to a significantly more efficient delivery to the market. As a forward-thinking software company, we are always ready to learn more about the industry's challenges and concerns as it helps us to develop a more targeted solution for the market. Interbee 2023 is an excellent platform to strengthen meaningful connections among industry professionals.

The positive reception reaffirmed the industry's recognition of our commitment to technological evolution and innovation. We look forward to strengthening our brand presence and establishing new partnerships in the region. Stay tuned for exciting updates as we seek further growth and collaboration with partners in this region and beyond!
