

Etere Releases 34.2 with an Integrated Profanity Check

Etere takes the next step forward in innovation with an integrated profanity check released in version 34.2. The new feature is designed to seamlessly integrate in any workflow, marking a significant advancement in automation and quality assurance. This is a free upgrade for all Etere customers on a support contract.

As part of the Etere 34.2 upgrade, Etere releases an integrated profanity check that offers automatic and manual scans across the entire media library, including subtitles. Once a profanity is detected, operators can remove it manually or automatically based on pre-defined parameters. Moreover, it checks content in numerous languages simultaneously, providing unparalleled convenience in guaranteeing adherence to broadcasting regulations, regardless of the size or language of your media library.

At Etere, we understand that staying ahead means continuous improvement. Our after-sales service sets the gold standard in the industry, featuring 24/7 global support and complimentary software upgrades and updates.
