About Broadcast and Digital Media Convention 2024

With a rapidly transforming digital landscape, broadcast media practitioners and content publishers in Ethiopia and across East Africa seek new ways to optimise and deliver their services in the digital media ecosystem. Industry players across the value chain seek to fully understand the dynamics of the new digital media environment and how it can be used to deliver enhanced value to consumers.

With the theme: "Delivering Quality Content With Innovative Digital Media Services", the International Broadcasting And Media Convention – East Africa is a 2-day industry meeting for all broadcasters, content platforms and publishers in Ethiopia and across East Africa.

Offering a unique blend of keynotes, panels and networking sessions that foster collaboration, inspire new ideas and promote the sharing of best practices, the industry convention will explore cutting-edge advancements and innovative practices in digital broadcasting and content publishing, helping assess the multiple roles and responsibilities that will allow them to effectively handle and manage their changing role in society as digital media becomes a reality across the region.
