Scalability and automation

Vantage is a software solution for automatic workflow-based video transcoding. Vantage transcoding workflow makes content production, multi-screen delivery, and device interoperability a completely automated process. Vantage brings transcoding, media capture, metadata processing, and analysis features in a flexible and scalable system which delivers reliable and effective results.

License compatibility

Vantage requires EA6768 license which supports the capability to request the automated execution of transcoding workflows for media files stored on Etere metadepices.
